

Policy updates due to COVID-19

Wadsworth Control Systems is closely monitoring the COVID-19 outbreak and the state and federal government responses. We continue to operate as an Essential Business, according to the Executive Stay at Home Order D 2020 017, articles 2 and 3, issued March 25, 2020.

Our primary focus is the health, welfare and safety of our team members while our production remains fully operational. We are closely following all of the CDC's recommendations regarding limiting the spread of the virus and have made adjustments in production and shipping processes. All other departments are currently working remotely and are fully operational.

Our supply chain continues to flow, and we are optimistic we will meet your project needs. We are conducting meetings virtually and the technical support team remains available.

Everyone at Wadsworth values your partnership during these challenging times. Thank you for your continued support and business.

To find out more call 800.821.5829, email sales@wadsworthcontrols.com or visit www.wadsworthcontrols.com

 WADSWORTH
Control Systems